Wah-wil-away Chapter

Of the Daughters of the American Revolution Entertained by the Regent.

The Wah-wil-away Chapter of the D. A. R. was entertained on Tuesday afternoon at Forest Lawn by the charming Regent, Mrs. Richards.

On entering the wide open door the scene was one of beauty. Flags were gracefully draped about the hall and around Washington's portrait, and spinning wheels and other souvenirs of revolutionary times were seen.

The long lunch table was beautifully decorated with blue and white ribbons, the D. A. R. colors, with wreaths of smilax flowing from the chandelier to the end of the table. Pond lilies and sweet peas were in profusion. The places were marked with stars of birch bark tied with red, white and blue ribbon.

The Regent presided with the grace and charm for which she is distinguished. While the company enjoyed a feast fit for the Lords, patriotic toasts were given and brightness and gaiety prevailed.

After the lunch the company assembled in the elegant parlors and a program of reports and poetry enlivened by music was given. "The Sword of Bunker Hill," sung by Mrs. Spargur, delighted all. Our national flower was discussed and the columbine seemed to be the choice.

The guests of the D. A. R. were Mrs. Pogeley, Mrs. Gill, of Columbus, Mrs. Tucker, of Newark, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Runkle, Mrs. Ferrel and Miss Helen Matthews.

THE RACKET

A Few Reasons

Why the "Ball Machine-Made Glass Jars are the best:

The glass is more evenly distributed and more perfect in shape.

The shoulder is pressed perfectly true and the jar will seal perfectly. Hand-made jars are blown and the shoulder is liable to be uneven.

Better annealed, less liable to break.

No ragged edges to cut the hand.

There are no flakes of glass in bottom of jar, which if mixed with the fruit renders it dangerous.

The glass being of uniform thickness is not as liable to break when filled with hot fruit.

These jars are fitted with aluminum caps. Aluminum metal is as pure as gold or silver. It is not affected by fruit acids. It will not corrode. It can be easily and thoroughly cleansed.

You buy fruit jars for preserving-fruit. Then buy the best and take no chances of your fruit spoiling in cheap, imperfect jars. We sell these perfect, up-to-date jars for the same price others ask for the cheaper affair.
